

On Mother's Day
by Catinka Knoth

To Mothers, on this your special day,
So much one can't find words to say.
All the years you've spent
Readying Child to go forth in the world.
Life's magic you unfurled
And spread a feast delicious
Of the hopes, dreams and wishes
For us so tenderly you held despite Doubts and fears.
It's always been your love's best intent
That has led us through our years.
